

The radar chart displays the relative importance of six dimensions of power for three groups. The dimensions are: Territorial Control, Violence, Economic Extraction, Political Influence, Security, and Social Control. The scale ranges from 0 to 1.0, with concentric lines at 0.25, 0.5, 0.75, and 1.0. The groups are: Political elites (dark purple line), Economic elites (light blue line), and Political-military elites (red line).

Dimension	Political elites	Economic elites	Political-military elites
Territorial Control	1.0	0.5	0.4
Violence	0.25	0.1	0.1
Economic Extraction	0.1	0.8	0.1
Political Influence	0.1	0.8	0.1
Security	0.1	0.1	0.4
Social Control	0.1	0.1	0.4

- FederalPolice
- MunicipalPolice
- StatePolice
- Army
- NationalGuard

